

April 19, 2017

Contact: Ralph Newell

Phone: 703.385. 2419

Email: Ralph@DiverseEducation.com

2017 Most Promising Places to Work in Community Colleges

Fairfax, Va.— Diverse: Issues In Higher Education is pleased to announce the 2017 Most Promising Places to Work in Community Colleges. The findings will be published in the May 18, 2017 edition of the magazine.

Through partnership with the Center for Higher Education Enterprise (CHEE) at Ohio State University and the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD), Diverse is able to present this important research to the public.

With a focus on workplace diversity, staffing practices, and work environment, the CHEE research team used a web-based survey approach to examine categories such as family friendliness, salary/benefits, and professional development opportunities, to name a few.

The list of 11 most promising places to work in community colleges (in alphabetical order) is:

- Blinn College
- El Centro College
- Montgomery County Community College
- Mountain View College
- Oklahoma State University Institute of Technology
- Pierpont Community and Technical College
- Seward County Community College - Area Technical School
- South Florida State College
- Southwest Virginia Community College
- Stella and Charles Guttman Community College
- Tallahassee Community College

Diverse: Issues In Higher Education is the nation's only news magazine dedicated exclusively to diversity issues in higher education. Visit www.DiverseEducation.com for more information.

####